WHAT IS GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE?	254

Our Service To You

This recipe book is offered to housewives with the hope that it will suggest new dishes by which the daily menu may be varied. Each recipe has been tested and tasted by the Department of Cookery of GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE, a research laboratory at 105 West 39th Street, New York City, conducted by GOOD HOUSEKEEPING Magazine. It is in this kitchen laboratory that a staff of trained and experienced workers are constantly revising, standardizing and testing recipes, methods and articles. Every one of these recipes represents actual testing in the exact quantities in which it is printed. It is with all confidence, then, that we offer you the contents of this book, because we know that both the recipes and menus are practical, workable, and correct. They should prove of valuable assistance in planning daily meals, and in accomplishing good cookery at the cost of less money, less time, and less labor.

Department of Cookery,
GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE.

How To Use The Recipes

In every case, use accurate and level measurements. Always sift flour once before measuring, then at least once again with the other dry ingredients. In cake, cooky, and muffin recipes calling for butter, any good margarin may be used. Unsalted vegetable fats are also very satisfactory as butter substitutes because of their neutral flavor. If these are used, however, be sure to increase the amount of salt which the recipe calls for. In most cases, the salt may be doubled. Sugar designated means granulated unless otherwise stated.

When baking bread, biscuits, muffins, corn cake, etc., the pans should be well greased. For all butter cakes both grease and flour pans. Angel and true sponge cakes should be baked in ungreased pans. The time given for baking can only be approximate as the depth of the pan used will make a slight difference.

Each recipe is planned to serve six unless otherwise stated. This, too, can only be approximate as the accompanying dishes will have some bearing on the size of the servings in many cases.

Measuring and Mixing

Half of the secret of good cooking lies in accurate measurement. GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE recommends a standard measuring-set. First in its list of measuring-utensils are two standard measuring-cups holding one-half pint each and divided into quarters and thirds. These may be made of either aluminum or glassware. The tin cup is too short-lived. A set of accurate measuring-spoons is essential. These are made of aluminum and can be found in capacities graduated from one tablespoonful down to one-fourth teaspoonful. They assure uniform good results in baking-powder mixtures, cakes, and so forth, as well as careful seasoning.

A small spatula for the leveling of all solid measurements is indispensable. An aluminum quart measure and a small compact spring scale may also be added to the measuring equipment. Use the scale more for checking the weights as purchased than for cooking by weight. A spring scale, while illegal in certain states because it can be easily tampered with, is nevertheless practical and accurate for household usage.

In all measuring see that the ingredients are level. A cupful is measured level; a tablespoonful is measured level; a teaspoonful is measured level. In measuring dry ingredients by cupfuls fill the cup by tablespoonfuls, allow it to heap slightly, then level with a quick stroke of the spatula. When fractions of a cupful are to be measured, measure by tablespoonfuls in preference to the use of the cup up to one-half cup capacity, remembering that sixteen tablespoonfuls are equal to one cupful. And do not shake the cup while filling.

To Measure Dry Ingredients

In measuring dry ingredients by spoonfuls fill the spoon by dipping into the ingredient until more than level; level with the spatula, cutting with the edge of the knife toward the tip of the spoon. For the half-teaspoonful, measure in exactly the same way, using the measuring spoon of one-half teaspoonful capacity. For the half-tablespoonful use the spoons of one teaspoonful and one-half teaspoonful capacity. For one-eighth of a teaspoonful measure one-fourth teaspoonful as usual, then cut sharply in two with the spatula. Less than one-eighth of a teaspoonful is called a "speck" or "a few grains" and is the amount which can be taken up on the very tip end of a vegetable knife. This is a term quite frequently used for seasoning.

In measuring a solid fat, pack solidly into cup or spoon and cut level with the spatula. When one-quarter cupful or less of a fat is desired always measure in tablespoonfuls, allowing four tablespoonfuls to each quarter cupful. Here is a simple way of measuring fats when less than one cupful is desired. If, for instance, one-half cupful of fat is desired, fill the measuring cup with one-half cupful of water and then add the fat in small pieces until the water reaches the cupful mark; then pour off the water and one-half cupful of fat will remain.

To Measure Liquids

In measuring liquids by cupfuls pour the liquid to be measured into the cup, filling it to the very top of the standard cup. For fractions of cupfuls fill in like manner to the indicated division. In the same way measure liquids by spoonfuls, by taking up all the spoon will hold.

Just How to Mix

Fully as important as measuring is the correct motion for combining ingredients. These involve three processes, stirring, beating, and "cutting" or folding in. The stirring motion is required to blend ingredients together. It is the one that is most often employed for thoroughly mixing the ingredients of a dish.

Beating is the motion necessary when air must be introduced into a mixture in order to leaven it. In beating, the ingredients must be turned over and over, continually bringing the under part upward to the surface and consequently bringing with it, with each stroke, a certain amount of air.

The cutting and folding motion is necessary when a mixture already containing entrapped air introduced by beating must have added to it an ingredient, also well beaten, and the mixing accomplished without loss of air from either mixture. The best illustration of this is a sponge cake where, into the light yolk-sugar-and-flour mixture, must be cut and folded the beaten egg-whites.

Briefly, by stirring, a dish is properly mixed; by beating, air is entrapped in the mixture; by cutting and folding, this air which has been already entrapped is prevented from escaping.

The following lists of equivalents are intended merely as an assistance in purchasing supplies, because GOOD HOUSE-KEEPING INSTITUTE does not believe in cookery by weight.

1 pint boiling water 1 cupful milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cupful granulated cornmeal 1 cupful grated cheese
1 teaspoonful salt 2 tablespoonfuls butter
Few grains cayenne pepper 2 tablespoonfuls flour

Pour out into a greased, shallow pan and let cool. When cold, cut in small squares, place in a greased pan, and cover with cheese sauce made as follows: In a saucepan melt the butter, add the flour, and cook until bubbling; then add the milk gradually. When thickened, add the rest of the salt, the cayenne pepper, the cheese, and parsley. Cook until the cheese is melted and pour over the cornmeal mixture. SOFT CUSTARD DE LUXE

2 eggs	$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoonful salt
2 egg-yolks	3 cupfuls scalded milk
$\frac{1}{3}$ cupful sugar	1 teaspoonful vanilla

Place the eggs and the egg-yolks in a bowl and beat slightly, just enough to mix the eggs together, and then add the sugar and salt. Beat only enough to blend the eggs and sugar together. Over this, pour the scalded milk gradually, stirring all the while. Return to the double-boiler in which the milk was scalded and cook for about five minutes—until the mixture thickens sufficiently to coat the spoon with which it is being stirred. The stirring should be continuous during the cooking. Do not allow the water in the double-boiler to boil violently during the cooking; the custard is much smoother if cooked slowly. Be careful not to cook too long, or the custard will curdle. If this should happen, remove it from the fire immediately and beat with a Dover type egg-beater until smooth. Avoid overcooking, however, because a custard that has once curdled will never have just the same consistency as one that has been cooked just right. When the custard is cold, add the vanilla, mix well together and chill thoroughly before serving. The rest of the egg-whites may be used for meringue in the making of Floating Island or fruit custard desserts.

CROWN ROAST OF PORK

12 ribs pork	$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful summer savory
2 cupfuls dry bread crumbs	12 small white onions
$\frac{1}{4}$ cupful walnut-meats	4 tablespoonfuls flour
Salt	2 tablespoonfuls chopped tart
Pepper	pickles

Paprika

Six ribs from each side of a rack of pork are required for this dish, and each rib should be trimmed in the same way that lamb chops are cut when Frenched, only the ribs are not separated. Then the sections of meat are turned so that the bones are on the outside, and fastened together in a circle with skewers and string. Next make a stuffing. Soak the bread-crumbs in cold water and squeeze dry. Mix with the walnut-meats chopped, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika and the summer savory. Place the stuffing in the center of the roast and cover the ends of the bones with greased papers to prevent their browning too soon. Put the meat in a 500° F. oven and cook for thirty minutes. Then lower the heat to 450° F. and finish the roasting. Two hours should be given the roast—perhaps a little longer if it is very meaty, for it must be well done—and during the roasting process it must be basted frequently with the dripping in the pan, to which a cupful of boiling water was added after the roast was nicely seared. Sprinkle the meat lightly with salt and pepper one-half hour before removing it from the oven. Parboil the onions in slightly salted boiling water and place one on the end of each rib in place of the paper covering, about ten minutes before the roast is done. Baste with the drippings so that they will take on an alluring brown. Accompany the roast with a gravy made from the drippings in the pan, the flour, sufficient boiling water to make the sauce of the correct consistency, the finely chopped pickle, with salt, pepper, and paprika to taste. Beechwood Park, Pa.

PIGEON PIE

4 pigeons
Salt
Celery salt
Paprika
2 hard-cooked eggs
1 cupful thin cream

2 dozen fresh or dried mushrooms
2 tablespoonfuls margarin
2 tablespoonfuls flour
1 egg
Rich biscuit dough

Clean and split the pigeons and simmer until tender, seasoning, when nearly done, with one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of celery salt, and one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika. Remove the larger bones and arrange in a buttered baking dish, together with the livers and hearts, the hard-cooked eggs quartered lengthwise, and the mushrooms. If fresh ones are used, they should be washed, skinned, and sliced. If dried ones are used, they should be soaked for an hour in warm water. Use the broth, reduced to one pint to make a highly seasoned gravy, thickening it with the margarin and flour blended together and adding more seasoning if needed. Pour this over the birds and cover with a rich biscuit crust—not too thick—cutting a cross in the center and turning back the corners. Bake one-half hour in a 400° F. oven, then pour in the cream, brush over the crust with beaten egg, and bake fifteen minutes longer.

ROASTING SUCKING PIG

A sucking pig
Stuffing
2 eggs

Flour
1 cupful cider
Parsley

Order a pig not older than six to eight weeks, cleaned and prepared for roasting. Wash it in cold water and wipe it dry. Make a stuffing as for duck or goose, seasoning it highly, and mixing it with the eggs, beaten. Stuff the pig and sew up the opening, bend the legs under, and fasten them securely in place with string or skewers. Dredge it all over with flour, and place in a large pan, then roast in the usual way, browning in a 500° F. oven for thirty minutes, then lowering the temperature to 450° F., and cooking until done, allowing half an hour for each pound. If the skin begins to crack during the last half hour, rub it over with melted drippings to keep it soft and tender. Make the gravy, from part of the fat in the pan, adding the cider to it. Serve the pig on a bed of parsley. Decorate as preferred, the customary garnishing being a lemon in its mouth, cranberry eyes, and a wreath of parsley about its neck. A paper chop frill on the tail gives a droll touch and adds to its attractiveness.

VEAL AND HAM PIE

2 pounds shoulder or breast of veal	$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoonful thyme
$\frac{1}{2}$ pound raw ham	$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoonful marjoram
$1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonfuls salt	$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful grated lemon rind
$\frac{3}{8}$ teaspoonful pepper	$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful lemon-juice
1 bay leaf	1 teaspoonful minced parsley
$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful summer savory	1 tablespoonful butter
1 tablespoonful granulated gelatin	Yolk 1 egg
2 tablespoonfuls cold water	$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoonful nutmeg
$\frac{1}{2}$ cupful fine dry bread-crumbs	Hard-cooked eggs
	Flaky pastry
	1 egg

Cut the veal from the bone and divide it into neat pieces about two inches square. Cover the meat and bone with boiling water and simmer until tender. Then remove the meat from the liquid, trim if needed, and put it away in a cool place while making the rest of the preparations. Season the broth with one and one-fourth teaspoonfuls of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, the bay-leaf and summer savory. Let it simmer with the veal bones for one hour longer. Then strain the broth and to it—there should be about one quart—add the gelatin softened in the cold water. Cook the ham, thinly sliced, in boiling water for ten minutes. Meanwhile, prepare a few forcemeat balls as follows: Mix together the fine bread-crumbs, the thyme, marjoram, grated lemon rind, and the minced parsley. Then rub into the mixture the butter and the egg-yolk well beaten. Season with the nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper. Form into balls about the size of marbles, using a teaspoonful of the mixture for each ball. Butter a deep baking-dish or casserole and place the meat in layers in it, interspersing the veal with the ham, and occasionally place a forcemeat ball in some nook or crevice where it will fit. Hard-cooked eggs sliced cross-wise may also be used in the pie, though they are not an essential to its perfection. When all the ingredients have been used, pour the strained broth about them and cover the dish with a top of flaky pastry in which several little slits have been cut. Bake at 350° F. for forty-five minutes, then brush the crust with the beaten egg and mixed with a tablespoonful of water, and return it to a 400° F. oven to brown. Serve hot or cold.

SOUR PICKLED GHERKINS

100 small cucumbers	12 whole allspice
Cold water	12 peppercorns
$1\frac{1}{2}$ cupfuls salt	3 sticks cinnamon
Boiling water	3 blades mace
Vinegar	1 ounce mustard-seed
4 green peppers	2 bay-leaves
	1 good-sized onion

Be careful not to bruise or mar the cucumbers. Do not wash and scrub them unless absolutely necessary, as that will tend to bruise them. Select very small prickly cucumbers of uniform size and cover them with cold water. By measuring the cold water needed for covering the pickles at this stage, the amount needed for the brine and also for the vinegar later on may be easily determined. Let stand one hour, then lift the cucumbers out in order not to disturb any settling of sand or dirt, and turn them into a large crock. Add one cupful of salt to sufficient boiling water to cover the cucumbers and pour this over them. Cover the crock closely and let it stand for two days. After this, drain, rejecting those that may be imperfect or soft, and pack them in a clean crock. Then cover them with the following solution which should be hot but not boiling: Take enough vinegar to cover the gherkins, add the green peppers chopped, one-half cupful of salt, the spices and the onion diced. These gherkins may be sealed in jars or kept unsealed in crocks. They keep perfectly either way. Do not use until six or eight weeks after making. They are even better if left for a longer time before using.

Curry powder, horseradish, chopped sour pickles, capers or parsley, chili sauce or tomato catchup may be used in varying the dressing. | 2 sprigs parsley | 1 pound sweet butter |
| 3 sprays fresh tarragon | $1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonfuls salt |

In the meantime melt the sweet butter in another saucepan over hot water or a very low fire. Now add to the reduced vinegar mixture the egg-yolks and the cold water. Stir well with a whip and cook same over hot water, whipping it constantly until it gets thick like custard. Do not let the water underneath boil, and be careful not to allow the eggs to scramble. Two or three minutes only will be required for the thickening. Then remove from the fire and add the melted butter, a very little at a time, beating constantly. Add the salt and cayenne pepper and strain through cheesecloth. Add the minced herbs and serve on any kind of broiled meat such as filet mignon, tenderloin, or sirloin steak.

A NEW USE FOR SANDPAPER

I saw a painter put a small piece of sandpaper under each end of a heavy frame when standing it on a narrow ledge. I tried the same thing when a large mirror was inclined to slip forward from its resting place on a mantel, and found it successful. The folds of sandpaper were so small that they did not show, and the mirror did not move again.

BLOTTERS FOR THE EMERGENCY

I keep a pack of large, plain, white blotters in the drawer of my sideboard, and when anything is spilled on the dining-room linen, instead of reaching for a freshly laundered napkin to sop it up with, I reach at once for one of the blotters, and the spilled liquid is absorbed immediately instead of being made larger by useless sopping. This simple process saves considerable time in laundering, because if it happens that milk or water has been overturned, the blotter takes up the moisture so quickly and thoroughly that the accident may often pass entirely unnoticed, and the linen may be used several times more. On the other hand, if the stain is of fruit or coffee, the blotter system is equally efficient in that what there is of the spot is much smaller in area, so that there is less linen to be rubbed and scalded.

CARE IN USING ELECTRICITY

Now that electrical devices of all kinds are so constantly used, many women forget that certain precautions must be taken in their use. Never turn electricity on or off when you are standing on a wet or even damp floor. If you do so, the current is apt to pass through your body. This advice is particularly applicable to the kitchen, bathroom, and laundry where water is most likely to be spilled.

Mrs. J. T., N. Y.

FOR PERSONS WEARING BIFOCAL GLASSES

For the benefit of those who wear bifocals, I suggest the following: I had an inch-wide white strip painted along the edge of our gray porch and on each step. The white lines show plainly even at night, and there is no danger of falling.

THE YOUNGSTER'S HIGH CHAIR

When our small son reached the age when he was large enough to eat at the table with us, we had to meet the problem of how to make his chair the proper height, for the "baby high chair" which he had been using up to that time did not look at all well in our Sheraton dining-room suite, and we were much opposed to the usual sofa cushion or big book placed daily on his chair. This is how we finally remedied the difficulty: We purchased four of the old-fashioned door bumpers, the sort with the hard rubber pad in the end, and screwed one in the end of each leg of Sonny's chair. This gave the required rise of quite three inches, and when they were stained mahogany color, they were almost invisible. In this way we had a thoroughly satisfactory high chair which stood with all the rest without spoiling the looks of our dining-room.

TO RENEW WHITE WINDOW SHADES

While having my bathroom enameled, I remarked to the painter that I should be most happy to discover some way of making the white window shades fresh and clean again, as they had become soiled from long use. Immediately he came to my rescue, removed the shades, took them out into the garage, and hung them against the wall. Then he gave the shades a coat of flat white paint, and when they were dry, he put green paint on the other side, and now the shades look like new.

EDITOR'S NOTE. This discovery was tested in the Institute and found to be very practical.

TO RENOVATE A DAVENPORT

We have a wicker and tapestry davenport which had become soiled and the wicker broken in places. I had a slip-cover made of cretonne harmonizing with the rest of the room. The slip completely covers the davenport and costs far less than a new davenport.

TO SAVE THE FURNITURE

When our baby got her first kiddy car, the furniture received many scratches. My husband then tacked a piece of rubber tubing around the front and back of the kiddy car, using as few tacks as possible. Since then, the furniture has been bumped but unharmed. The tubing also acts as a shock absorber and saves our baby many tumbles and jolts.

WHEN ADDING EXTRA LEAVES TO A TABLE

After adding extra leaves to the dining-room table, all housekeepers know the inconvenience of having to open one tablecloth after another to find one of the right length for the extended table. To obviate this, mark the length of each cloth on the narrow hem, making very small letters and using white embroidery cotton.

About-The-Laundry Discoveries

A LAUNDRY BAG

The most satisfactory laundry bag I ever had I made from a yard of thirty-six-inch cretonne. I folded it lengthwise and shaped it at the top so as to fit over a coat hanger. On the front side, I cut a slit long enough to push the soiled clothes through, and bound it firmly. Then I cut the back side of the bag longer, enough to enable me to turn it up at the bottom for a flap, which I fastened on the front side with five large snap fasteners. With a bag made in this way, the bottom can be unsnapped and the laundry dropped out without removing the bag from the hook on the closet door.

AN IRONING GARMENT

Pin a Turkish towel around the left end of your ironing board. You will come upon many bits of work in the course of an hour's ironing that will repay you for the effort. Initials, some laces, and heavy seams look a hundred percent better when ironed over Turkish towels.

Mrs. E. S., N. Y.

A NOVEL CLOTHES BASKET

One of the best discoveries I ever made came about when at a summer cottage. There was washing to do and no clothes basket until we discovered a bushel basket such as farmers use about a farm. Such a basket proved easy to lift when full of wet clothes, and when the laundry basket in my city home needed to be renewed, I went to a grocery store where such articles are sold, and bought three of the bushel baskets. My laundress speaks of the convenience of having three baskets to sort clothes in. Furthermore, one basket can be left in the clothes yard after the first wash is hung out, and is there ready for them when dry, while there are still wet clothes in the other two baskets.

A PAD FOR THE IRONING BOARD

If you have been seeking a good, thick pad for your ironing board, try using two thicknesses of cotton batting. This makes an excellent pad.

Miss B. W., Ill.

AVOID LOSS OF HANDKERCHIEFS

In sending handkerchiefs to the laundry, in order to avoid the loss of handkerchiefs and of temper as well, I baste them on a long tape, usually two together, and up to the present time have not been obliged to make one complaint with regard to the loss or tearing of handkerchiefs. Of course, they are returned unironed, but who would not be willing to press them out rather than not to have them returned to you at all, particularly in these days of high-priced linen!

M. L. I., Wis.

BRIDGE TABLE COVERS EASILY WASHED

It always proved a tedious task to wash my bridge table covers because of the many tapes attached to them, used in keeping the covers in place on the table. Now I have dispensed with the tapes entirely and simplified the washing of the covers by making a tiny, square pocket on the under side of each corner, fastened with a snap. In each pocket I place a weight, which keeps the cover in position and can be slipped out when the cover is laundered.

Mrs. L. H. N., N. Y.

DOLLS' CLOTHES-PINS SOLVE THE PROBLEM

Dolls' clothes-pins have proved very useful in hanging the baby's clothes on a cord across the upstairs piazza. The big pins fall out, and safety-pins are very apt to tear the clothes.

Mrs. C. L. G., N. J.

DRYING WOOLEN SWEATERS

Heavy woolen sweaters may be dried most successfully in the following way: Lay a clean sheet kept just for the purpose over a window screen. On this place the washed sweater in exactly its original form, carefully placing the fulness in the front, with a flat back. Balance the screen on two chairs and dry the sweater over a floor register or in a warm room in the winter time, or in a shady place out-of-doors if it is summer.

Miss M. A., N. J.

HANGING CLOTHES IN COLD WEATHER

In cold weather I place my clothes-pins in a pan in the warming oven. When I am ready to hang out the washing, I put the hot clothes-pins in the clothes-pin bag. Each time I reach for a pin, my fingers get warm, and the hot clothes-pins also help to keep the corners from freezing too much in hanging the clothes straight.

Mrs. B. A. D., Utah.

HOW I SPRINKLE MY CLOTHES

I sprinkle my clothes with boiling water and one of the round variety of vegetable brushes. This distributes the water in fine drops and prevents me from burning my fingers, and the clothes can be ironed in fifteen minutes.

Mrs. E. Y., Ohio.

KEEPING THE IRONING BOARD CLEAN

It is surprising how much dust can collect on an ironing board cover when it is not in use. To avoid this very thing, I have made a cotton bag into which the ironing board can be slipped after each time of using. This bag is long enough to fold over at the top and thus protects the board from dirt and dust.

Miss M. A., N. J.

REMOVABLE COVERS FOR HOLDERS

I find ironing holders, and in fact all holders, are bound to get soiled when used for any great length of time, and it is not an easy task to wash and dry them when they are so thick. To ease the washing of the same, I make the foundation pads of the usual size and shape. Then I make slip-covers of the same size as the pads, having short tapes on the edges. These covers slip over the pads easily, being tied in position. When soiled, the covers alone are removed and washed. Gingham, percale, or something firm and washable is satisfactory for the covers.

Mrs. T. W. B., Conn.

SAVING STRENGTH ON WASH DAY

When wash day comes around, I use the children's wagon to haul the wash basket of wet clothes from the back door or laundry to the clothes-line. It not only saves me a heavy load, but it also prevents dragging the larger pieces of the wash on the ground while they are being hung up, because the wagon can be drawn along right under the clothes-line. When there is snow, the children's sled answers equally as well.

Mrs. R. B. C., Ind.

TO IRON BABY PILLOW COVERS

Our baby had several lovely carriage pillow covers given to him, which we found difficult to launder well. No matter how carefully they were ironed, the madeira embroidery looked a bit pulled, until we made a special ironing board to fit the pillows. All the pillow covers were regulation size for baby pillows, 17" by 13". We took the cover of a packing box and had it sawed slightly smaller than the pillow covers, so it could easily be slipped in and out. This we covered as one does a full-sized ironing board. Now the covers look better than new, when ironed.

Mrs. W. K., Ill.

TO KEEP CURTAINS CLEAN

To any one living in a smoky city, the problem of keeping the curtains clean is a difficult one. In my apartment I have solved the difficulty by having all my curtains of the same material and made identically the same, always keeping on hand one extra pair of curtains. Each week I put the pair of curtains which is soiled the most into the wash, hanging up the extra pair in its place. To simplify the laundering, I have two extra curtain rods in the laundry, each of which is six feet long, or over twice the width of one curtain. After washing, the curtains are stretched by hanging from one rod while the other is run through the bottom hems. In this way, the curtains dry easily, and by following the above plan my curtains are always clean and unwrinkled, my windows are never bare, and there is no extra labor involved in laundering the curtains. This method of drying the curtains is adapted to those made of net or filet.

Mrs. B. H. J., Ill.

TO KEEP THE BEDROOM CURTAINS CLEAN

Just how to keep the bedroom curtains from getting soiled and mussed at night when the windows are wide open was, until recently, a great problem to me, but I have at last hit upon a simple plan. Buy spring clothes-pins in any department store. Two are needed for each window. Catch the outside and inside edges of both white curtain and cretonne drapery together, lift these to the highest point that can be reached along the outside of the curtain, and snap all together with a clothes-pin. It is surprising how fresh and clean the curtains will keep when you follow this procedure.

Miss M. A. H., N. J.

TO KEEP THE IRON FROM STICKING

If, when making starch, you use soapy water as the foundation, you will have no further trouble with the iron sticking to the article you are laundering. Allow one tablespoonful of soap jelly to each quart of water, adding the desired amount of starch, depending upon the garments to be starched.

Miss E. H., Wis.

TO WASH HEAVY RAG RUGS

I have found a simple way of washing heavy rag rugs. Soak the rugs for five minutes in cold water, then spread them on a bare floor and sprinkle heavily with any good washing powder. Scrub the rugs until they are clean with a clean broom dipped in hot water. Rinse thoroughly in clear water in the laundry tub and hang on the line to dry.

Mrs. L. J. O., Wyo.

TO WASH TRICOLETTE BLOUSES

I have a light tricolette blouse which must be laundered often. I found it difficult to iron it nicely after frequent washings. Now I simply hang the blouse on a clean wooden rod, then tie the rod to the clothes-line by means of a stout string. In the winter months I place the rod over the back of two chairs. In this manner the blouse dries smoothly and requires no ironing.

Miss H. M. A., Minn.

TO WASH WOOL STOCKINGS

Every one wearing wool stockings has more or less qualms in washing them because of the possibility of their shrinking. Not having any stocking stretchers I have hit upon a plan that is indeed a discovery. Before drying the stockings I put shoe trees in the feet, and this not only keeps them from shrinking, but makes them more comfortable when worn again.

Mrs. A. P. W., Conn.

WHEN STARCHING CLOTHES

In doing the washing for my family in our electric washing-machine, I found that the starching of from forty to sixty garments and pieces of household linen was the most tedious and disagreeable part of the whole undertaking. Almost immediately I happened upon this plan which has proved a real time-saver. I make about three-quarters of a gallon of starch. When all the washing is finished and the clothes have been rinsed and wrung dry, I put about half of the pieces to be starched, shaken out lightly, into one of the stationary tubs. I pour half of the hot starch over them and wring them one by one through the power wringer, the top ones first. As the starch drips off the wringer board, I hold the next piece under to catch it, occasionally sopping the starch out of the corners of the tub also, and then repeating the operation till all the clothes are wrung through. Then I put the rest of the pieces in the tub and pour the balance of the starch over them, repeating the wringing process. The starch is evenly distributed through the clothes, and I have no trouble with lumps when ironing them. If any piece is desired very stiff, it can be dipped in the starch first.

Mrs. J. T. H., Md.

WHEN WASHING CURTAINS

Net curtains that are hung with a rod both at the top and the bottom do not need to be ironed or stretched. Launder them in the usual way and hang on the rods wet. The curtains dry smoothly, with edges that are even and straight. If there is a top heading, pinch it up with your fingers when about half dry. The heading will stand up in nice plaits.

Bath-Room Discoveries

A BASKET FOR THE BATHROOM

A small basket with a tall handle over which a scrubbing cloth can be hung to dry may contain a can of scouring powder and a brush for cleaning the bathtub. A small bottle of kerosene may be added by those who have tried this easy and sanitary cleanser. Kerosene cleans like magic, without hard rubbing, and quickly evaporates. In most bathrooms there is a little corner where such a basket can be set on the floor, and it will be found a real convenience for all concerned.

G. S. B., Cal.

A BATH MITTEN

When one of your Turkish towels is growing old, use part of it to make a bath mitten to wear when you are giving baby his bath. Make the mitten rather loose-fitting for your hand and button at the wrist. The warmth of your mittened hand will be agreeable to the baby.

AN EXCELLENT WAY TO UTILIZE SCRAPS OF TOILET SOAP

Save all odds and ends of toilet soap of every description. When enough has accumulated, break in very small pieces and put through the food-chopper, using the medium cutter first, and then the fine cutter. To one cupful of this granulated soap add one and one-half cupfuls of corn-meal and put through the food-chopper again until reduced to a coarse meal. This may be facilitated by rubbing between the hands to loosen the particles. When all will pass readily through a meal sieve, add one ounce of olive oil to each two and one-half cupfuls of the soap and corn-meal mixture. Blend thoroughly. An ordinary fruit jar with the rubber ring in place makes a good container. A quantity of this soap powder kept on the kitchen sink or in the bathroom will be found invaluable.

able for cleansing very soiled hands and keeping them soft and smooth, besides being perfectly harmless and costing next to nothing.

Mrs. A. D., Cal.

ONE MORE SHORT CUT TO CLEANLINESS

During the out-of-door season, my soul is often tried by my mud-loving sons trailing muddy foot-marks and quarts of sand over the bathroom, especially when I am doing all my own housework. The white-tiled walls, floors, basin, and tub all show their tracks even after one bath! Not so any more, for recently I made a discovery. I now keep a bath mat, a cake of soap, two bath towels, and two wash-cloths in my laundry. Every day, or oftener, my sons are led to the cool laundry and bathed in my laundry tubs, which are porcelain and as clean and as easily kept so as the bathtub. The tubs are at a convenient height for mother to help with the "corners," and that means a lot of backaches avoided, as any five-foot mother of two wriggling boys can testify, after she has doubled herself over the bathtub in the attitude of a measuring worm for half an hour a day. One more bit of saving this discovery has, and that is that the muddy, sandy garments that are stripped off the youngsters are right where they should be, ready to be washed.

Mrs. N. W. F., N. Y.

RESCUE THE BATH TOWELS

In a household of men and boys addicted to hard rubbing after cold showers, I have found that the life of heavy bath towels may be lengthened considerably by binding with one-inch tape all along the two sides where the first fatal breaks always seem to appear. A loop of tape in the middle of one side to slip over a nicked hook on the bathroom door may suggest to the hurried youth a better way of disposing of a wet towel than leaving it on the floor or folding it when wet.

Mrs. T. R. H., Pa.

SOFT TOWELS FOR LITTLE ONES

I find that excellent towels for infants and small children can be made from birdseye cloth. Turn an inch hem and then stitch across this a narrow strip of light blue or pink chambray. These towels are easily kept white and are very absorbent.

Bed-Room Discoveries

A CHILD'S BEDSPREAD

A spread that will help entertain a sick child can be made of blue galatea or solid-colored gingham. Make the spread any desired size; then pull apart the pages of a linen story book and stitch these on the spread, leaving spaces between the various pages. I have known a child to be entertained for an hour at a time with this spread. Mrs. C. P. B., Tex.

A CROCHET HOOK FOR THE EMERGENCY

A crochet hook is a useful adjunct to the sewing basket or to the dressing-table equipment. When the end of a drawstring or tape disappears within its casing, insert the hook and quickly draw it out. A. J. D., Mass.

AN IMPROVISED DRESSING-TABLE CHAIR

I feel that I have rescued and found a place for the old-fashioned piano-stool that swung around at our will for so many years, but has gradually given way to the more artistic bench. There is no better chair than the piano-stool for a dressing-table chair. One can swing all the way around on it and see how one's hair looks in the back, or one's collar or hat. It really is a very practical help in seeing the impractical things, and dressed up in chintz or brocade, it looks very smart. C. D., N. Y.

COVERING BABY

As cold weather is with us again, it may lighten the burden of some mothers to know that the baby may be kept covered at night and saved from many colds by the use of two large horse-blanket pins. These may be bought at any of the department stores. Pin through the bedclothes to the mattress on both sides, and it will be impossible for the baby to kick off the covers. Mrs. F. S. C., N. J.

FOR COAT HANGERS

My dresses, coats, and sweaters often slip off the wooden hangers. Recently I purchased large-sized, rubber-tipped tacks at a hardware shop. I pushed one of these tacks in at each end of the hanger. This keeps the hanging articles from slipping off, and yet leaves no mark or bulge. This method is especially good for careless children whose clothes are continually slipping to the floor.

Mrs. M. L., Pa.

SHEETS BY SIZE

I have always been bothered by not knowing what size my sheets were when they came out of the laundry or the closet. I have now one less thing to worry me, for each sheet is marked so that I know at once whether it is narrow, medium, or wide. With a tape measure I measured every sheet I owned, and sorted them into three piles—narrow, medium, and wide. I left the narrow sheets unmarked. I marked the medium sheets with one cross in red marking cotton over the edge of the narrow hem, and I marked the wide sheets with two crosses in the same place. My sheets are now in three piles in my linen closet, and I know exactly what size sheet I am getting when I take one from the closet. What is more important, I can tell at a glance which pile the sheet belongs to, after it has been laundered.

K. C. C., Mass.

TO FOLD A BEDSPREAD

To keep the bedspread from wrinkling during the night, I always fold it in the following manner rather than throwing it over the foot of the bed in the usual way: Begin at the top of the spread and fold it toward the foot in half. Then fold from each side toward the center, forming a triangle, the point of which is toward the head and the base toward the foot of the bed. Hold the point and fold it over the foot-board. The spread does not drag on the floor or lose its position. To unfold, follow in reverse order. I have used this method all summer, and my bedspreads are not unnecessarily soiled or wrinkled.

A DELICIOUS LUNCHEON BISCUIT

For the luncheon or afternoon tea service, the following suggests a dainty biscuit. Make the ordinary baking-powder biscuit dough and roll it to one-quarter inch thickness. Cut with a medium-sized biscuit cutter and spread each biscuit thickly with a deviled ham mixture. Roll up and bake as usual.

AN EMERGENCY DESSERT

An excellent dessert may always be quickly prepared if one has ripe, mealy apples on hand. Peel and core the apples, then chop them rather coarsely. Serve at once in sherbet glasses with plenty of powdered sugar and thick cream either plain or whipped. Lemon juice may be sprinkled over the apples if one favors such an addition.

M. M. H., Cal.

APPLE SAUCE IN DISGUISE

I have discovered that green apples or any apples which are rather colorless and tasteless can be made into delicious apple sauce by the addition of red cinnamon drops. Add the cinnamon drops when starting to cook the apples, and by the time the apple sauce is done, the cinnamon drops will have imparted a delicate color and a cinnamon flavor which is most pleasing. Add sugar to taste, in the usual manner.

BAKING SQUASH

I used to have sad times preparing my Hubbard squash for the kettle or oven, often being obliged to call on the ax to help me, and generally winding up with at least one disabled member. Now, immediately after breakfast, I just wash the squash and place it in the range oven. By dinner-time it is baked; then I open it with any common knife, remove the seeds, scrape out the squash, and with the addition of a little cream and seasoning I have the most delicious squash imaginable, for all its sweet juices have been retained and so has my temper!

CUSTARD DATE PIE

When making your next custard pie, lend variety to its flavor by the addition of dates. Stone the dates and cut them in small pieces, allowing one-half cupful to the standard recipe for one pie. Add the dates to the custard mixture and pour into the pastry-lined pie-plate. Bake in the usual manner, and the result will be truly delicious. Mrs. J. W. E., S. D.

DRYING HERBS

When drying céleri, parsley, or sage for winter seasonings, I leave all the leaves on and cut the stalks short enough so that they will fit in preserve jars. Then I place them in the uncovered jars with the leaves down and dry them in the oven. Then I adjust the rubbers and covers and store them away. Dried in this way, the herbs are particularly nice, as you can crumble them as you need them, some things requiring finer particles than others.

MANY WAYS WITH CHILI SAUCE

More times than once my store of canned chili sauce comes to the rescue. When I wish to bake beans and have no salt pork on hand, I empty a jar of my chili sauce over the beans. If I want a vegetable flavor in a small pot roast or a brown stew, I add chili sauce when making the gravy. For a sandwich filling I put through the meat-chopper any cold meat that I have on hand and then mix it with enough chili sauce to make a good paste to spread on the bread.

MAPLE FROSTING

A very easy and very delicious frosting for cake is made by adding maple-sirup to confectioner's sugar until it is of the right consistency to spread on cake.

MASHED POTATOES OF A NEW FLAVOR

When preparing mashed potatoes, season them in the usual way with salt, pepper, and butter, then add onion juice and grated nutmeg, allowing one teaspoonful of onion juice and one-quarter teaspoonful of grated nutmeg to each quart of mashed potatoes. It is surprising how this little addition lifts this familiar dish out of the ranks of the commonplace.

MINT GRAPEFRUIT

When serving grapefruit, it often whets the appetite to prepare it in a variety of ways. One of our favorite combinations is grapefruit and mint. Prepare the grapefruit in the usual manner, removing the tough portion in the center and separating the pulp from the skin around the entire circumference. Place one after-dinner mint in the center of each prepared half-grapefruit, chill thoroughly, and serve. This combination is particularly good for the dessert course.

POP-CORN AND BANANA SALAD

When making banana salad, try substituting pop-corn in place of the walnuts or peanuts that are usually used. Cut the bananas in halves lengthwise and place on lettuce leaves. Decorate with salad dressing and pop-corn. The result is very artistic and economical.

RICED CARROTS

Endeavoring to think of some novel way of varying the usual buttered carrots, an inspiration was the result. I scraped and cooked the carrots in the usual manner, and when tender, I drained them and put them through the fine sieve of a potato-ricer. With plenty of butter, the proper seasonings of salt, pepper, and paprika, and a vigorous beating, I had a delightfully tasty vegetable.

TO LIGHT THE CHRISTMAS PUDDING

One of the pleasantest memories of my childhood is that of seeing the Christmas pudding come in, enveloped in mysterious flames. And there is no need of giving up this pleasing rite, for my mother always used common lemon extract for producing the flame. Lemon extract contains a liberal amount of alcohol, so that it burns readily and has a delightful aroma. Try it!

TO SERVE EGGS ON TOAST

When serving eggs on toast to children or invalids, cut the toast in small cubes, leaving the slice in its original shape, before putting on the eggs. Then the toast is very easily eaten by the child or invalid.

WHEN MAKING COOKIES

When making rolled cookies which call for soda, you will find it much easier to mix the dough the night before. Then mold the dough into a long, slender roll and let stand in the refrigerator or a cold place overnight. In the morning slice the roll into thin slices and bake the cookies at the usual temperature. This method saves a great deal of time which is generally necessary for rolling out and cutting the cookies.

Discoveries Concerning Children

A MILK SODA

Winifred was one of the little girls who would not drink milk, regardless of her mother's efforts. Her aversion seemed so great that mother finally stopped insisting. Then Winifred started to school. She immediately began asking for two pennies each day for recess lunch, which consisted of crackers and a glass of milk. Her mother was astounded, also elated, and asked why she wanted milk at school but refused it at home. Winifred's answer solved the question, "Well, mother, at school we drink it through a straw, and I can't smell it."

Mrs. A. R., Ind.

CHILD TRAINING IN COOKERY

Would you help your child and yourself at the same time? Then next baking day, when your child begs to help, let him help. The usual excuse the child receives is that the mother is too busy and can't be bothered. I thought I would give my children the chance really to cook, and what is the result? On baking day I can turn part, or the whole of my baking over to my fourteen-year-old son and my eleven-year-old daughter. They can cook equally well and take great pride in what they do. I do not ask them to do too much, just enough so they are always desirous of doing more.

Mrs. C. R. P., Mass.

DOMINOES, A CHILD'S TEACHER

We find playing dominoes a great help to the children in their school work, making them quick and accurate in addition from much practise. It also serves to keep them quietly occupied on rainy days and at odd minutes. We adults often take a hand. The children began at quite an early age with the usual set, which runs to double six; they might have begun earlier still if we had taken out the higher numbers and stopped at double four. We start the game with the double blank and play in four directions, thus having four ends to count. At present we are playing with a set that goes to double twelve, and later we shall have one that runs up to double fifteen. These larger sets make a good joint Christmas gift to the children of a family and are usually a good deal of a surprise, so few people know of their existence. Mrs. G. H. S., N. J.

DRINKING MILK THE KIDDIE'S WAY

Perhaps your child will not drink his milk. Perhaps you are to blame for placing a large glass of milk before him and bidding him "drink it all"! There is a better way. A small pitcher and a little, flat-bottomed wine glass will do the trick. Pour a little milk at a time from the pitcher into the tiny glass and watch your child delight in taking every drop. If the child is old enough, let him pour it himself. This is a healthful method, for the milk will never be taken in large gulps.

Mrs. E. C. J., Ill.

EATING CEREALS

My two little girls refused to eat cereals until recently, when it occurred to me to give them each a little sugar bowl and pitcher so that they might help themselves. As the pitcher and sugar bowl hold only enough for one serving, there is no waste or over-sweetening. Besides teaching them to wait on themselves without spilling, they are getting the benefit of wholesome cereals for breakfast and learning to like them.

Mrs. E. M., Pa.

FAVORS FOR A CHILD'S PARTY

How the children love my edible Red Riding Hoods, because they are something different! For each Red Riding Hood a marshmallow, a toothpick, a small bar of chocolate, and red tissue paper are necessary. Use the toothpick to paint a face on the marshmallow with melted chocolate. Then stick it into the marshmallow for a neck and through the chocolate bar for the body. Now make a little red dress and cape and stand a Red Riding Hood at each child's place.

Mrs. A. P. W., Mass.

FOR CONVALESCENT CHILDREN

If a mother finds it hard to find amusement for convalescent children, I wish she would try a handful of toothpicks with a little pan of puffed wheat or puffed rice. My four little ones had mumps one after another, and after watching the first, when he was able to sit up in bed, make so many interesting things with the toothpicks and wheat, I really believe they were rather anxious to be just sick enough to play with them.

GLYCERIN SOAP BUBBLES

Having two small sisters, I am often called on, in case of their illness, to help entertain them. And I have at last found a sure way of keeping them contented and happy when they are well enough to permit it. I place a woolen blanket on top of the bed coverings and provide each child with a clay pipe. Then I prepare a cupful of real soapsuds, adding to it a small amount of glycerin. The children can blow bubbles to their hearts' content, and the glycerin makes the bubbles tough so that they settle on the blankets and often remain four or five minutes before breaking.

INTEREST IN HEALTH

In the school my children attend there are no school nurses, nutrition classes, etc., but I tell them what is being done in other schools along health lines, and we try to carry out some of these principles, chief of which are weighing and measuring. I give each a weight chart that they may see for themselves what they should weigh, impress upon them the value of proper food and plenty of sleep, and once a month take them to the scales. They are quite interested in observing their progress and are not nearly so indifferent regarding meals as they were before I had them keep their own records.

Mrs. T. K. F., W. Va.

NEATNESS AS A VIRTUE

I had noticed so many young girls who were either dowdy looking or overdressed that I resolved that my girls should not be in either class when in their teens if I could help it. I began their training by teaching them the value of matching colors between hair ribbons and dresses. Now my seven-year-old girl selects the ribbons for her dresses, never making the mistake of choosing a varicolored, Roman-striped hair ribbon to accompany a plaid dress, but instead selecting a black one or one matching the predominating color of the plaid. She has many colored handkerchiefs, and we have serious talks about selecting the proper color for the proper dress. She has a miniature manicure set just like mother's and takes great pride in its use, which results in clean nails of suitable length. This may sound unnecessary to many mothers, but I am looking forward to the future, when I hope to reap my reward in seeing a well-dressed girl who will not be conspicuous for untidiness or loud dressing. Mrs. A. S., Mass.

REMEDYING TIME WASTERS

There have been two small things in my family of three little girls that have caused more petty annoyance than all the big tasks put together. These were heralded in my busiest moments by questions such as, "Mother, this button has come off," and "Mother, my pencil's broken," or "Where is a pencil?" My decision to remedy the need of wasting time on such little things resulted in the following: First, I took an attractive Indian basket, called the children around me, dedicated it as my "Handy Basket," and made a game of it to see who could add most to it. The ordinary threads, needles, small scissors, and thimble were placed in it, and each child was to add every button she came across loose. Now, when an accident happens, here comes the needy one bringing the remedies along, and only a second of my time is required. Next, I screwed a patent pencil-sharpener in the playroom within easy reach, and above I nailed a neat wooden box, then instigated a contest to see who could find the most pencils for the box. No longer does "Let's play school" or "Let's draw" have any terrors for me, for they can all wait on themselves.

THE GAME SYSTEM

My two small children had lost, damaged, or destroyed many of their pretty small toys by reason of their being put away indiscriminately with the heavier toys. Not liking the mental effect of so much casual destruction, I worked out a plan for grouping their toys into so-called "games." For example, several celluloid ducks, a little pail of sea shells, a box of Japanese shells containing tiny toys, two miniature boats, a little mirror, a wee celluloid parasol, and several very small dolls were all fitted into a berry basket painted (when inverted) to represent a house or shack, and became known as the Beach Game. A fleet of battleships, several three-inch trains, and numerous tiny lead automobiles and horse-drawn vehicles are the Street Game and are usually asked for in combination with a box of dominoes. The Street Game in its present proportions fits into a pound candy box. But one beauty of the scheme is its capacity for growth. Each new toy must be allotted to a "game" suitable to its uses, and this affords constructive thought. The various "games" are kept on the shelf with the regulation games and sets of blocks. The children are given a choice of one or two "games" at a time, each, with the understanding that each game is to be replaced in the box which fits it. My children are very careless and most "rampageous," as one only expects wide-awake and healthy youngsters to be, but not once in more than six months have they failed to replace properly one of the games. I think they really enjoy fitting back the toys. And best of all, each toy is safe, with a place of its own, where it can not be crushed by larger toys, and has slight chance of being lost. Breakages are prone to occur even with the game system, but the casualties are reduced 90 percent.

TEACHING SYSTEM

I know all mothers find teaching system to their children a problem. I have solved mine by taking a large sheet of paper and on it a series of pictures cut from magazines. For instance, the rules for going to bed had pictures of children taking shoes and stockings off, hanging up clothes, washing face, etc. This makes rules interesting, especially for the young members of the nursery who can not read. They love to see the pictures of other children cleaning their teeth and putting away their toys.

Kitchen Discoveries

A BISCUIT CUTTER

Remove the bottom which holds the parts of an aluminum collapsible drinking cup together, and you have three biscuit cutters of graduated sizes.

Mrs. C. C., N. C.

A DRINKING GLASS FOR EVERY CHILD

The children would come in at odd times to get a glass of water until at dinner time there would not be enough glasses to set the table. So I screwed wire glass-holders into the window casement side by side, labeling one for each member of the family. Now each child can keep his own glass separate from the others, and all are handy to gather up for washing.

Mrs. J. B., Mich.

A NEW FUNNEL

I have seen many "wrinkles" for getting liquid into small-necked bottles, but I think I have found a better way than any of them. I take the little metal top of an umbrella cover, and it makes the finest sort of small funnel, which will fit into almost any bottle made. If one is in great haste, one can put a larger funnel into this, as the upper part is nearly an inch in diameter, and then one may pour as fast as one wishes.

A PLACE FOR THE DISHPAN

To save reaching under the drainboard to get my dishpan from a nail, which is the usual place for putting it, I have had a shelf built under the drainboard just low enough to take the dishpan. There I keep the dishpan, rinsing pan, and drainer where they may be reached without any effort.

A USE FOR PARAFFIN WRAPPERS

A household help that I have found invaluable is the paraffin paper wrappers that come around loaves of bread. These lend themselves to many kitchen services, but the best use I make of them is for the cleaning and polishing of my coal range. When the steel is moderately warm, the paraffin melts just enough to polish it.

Mrs. W. D. F., Kans.

ORDERING ICE BY POUNDS

It is often a great annoyance to the busy housewife to accomplish the necessary household tasks and still keep a watchful eye for the ice man's arrival in order to tell him the amount of ice desired. I have eliminated this inconvenience in the following manner: I cut out the figures, ten, fifteen, twenty, thirty, etc., from a large-typed calender, and when I need ice, I attach the necessary figure to the ice card with a clip.

TO CARE FOR TABLE OILCLOTH

To make table oilcloth more satisfactory and durable, clean it well and rub it occasionally with liquid wax, always polishing well afterward. It will be easy to keep clean, and its lifetime will be prolonged indefinitely. In polishing it, wrap a soft cloth or piece of flannel around an iron, using this for a polisher.

Mrs. M. W., Ill.

TO KEEP THE SINK SHINING

Soap jelly, which is made by dissolving a large bar of soap in two quarts of boiling water and two tablespoonfuls of kerosene, is a great aid in keeping a white, shining sink. I keep a glass of soap jelly on the sink shelf, and when I have finished my dishes, I put a little on a cloth which I keep especially for that purpose, and clean the sink. Then I wash the sink out with clean, hot, sudsy water, and the result is well worth the effort.

Sewing-Room Discoveries

A ROMPER SUGGESTION

The question of how to make rompers for my year-old son and do away with those wet buttons and buttonholes between the legs, which are always so difficult to manage, was solved in this way. I made kimono-sleeved waists of white or light material opening in the front. To these I buttoned dark-colored gingham bloomers of the popular Dutch style, so that they dropped across the front instead of the back. When it becomes necessary to change his diapers, I just unbutton the bloomers across the front at the waist and pull his legs out of the elastic knee bands. I find this much quicker and easier than the usual method.

Mrs. J. A. F., Conn.

BUTTONHOLES ON SHEER MATERIAL

Have you ever been discouraged when making buttonholes in material which frays out easily? Try the following: Mark with chalk the place where you wish to put the buttonholes, also the size. Take the garment to a place where machine hemstitching is done and have them run the machine over each chalk line. The hemstitching can then be cut as for picoting and the buttonholes worked over the picot. In this way, you will have a neat, satisfactory buttonhole.

Mrs. F. E. C., Conn.

EVENING STOCKING DARNING

Darning dark stockings at night was quite an ordeal for me until I discovered that by inserting my electric spot-light in the stocking and darning the stocking over the illuminated glass end, the process was made quite simple. Aside from the light enabling me to darn faster and more neatly, I found the glass surface an excellent darning. Mrs. W. G. H., Pa.

RENOVATING CRETONNE DRAPERIES

When I took down my cretonne draperies this year, the cloth was still perfectly good, but the sun had faded the colors. I laundered the draperies, then while they were still hot from the ironing, I took regular school coloring crayons and went over the designs. I used the color sparingly where little color was needed, and pressed harder where the color was deepest in the original design. Then I put plain paper over the work and pressed it with a hot iron. The curtains looked like new.

Mrs. H. A. C., Ind.

SETTING IN INSERTION

When making my baby clothes, I discovered a method of setting in insertion which I have used since on all sheer material. Hems on either side are avoided by having a line of hemstitching made where you intend the insertion to go. Cut through the hemstitching and sew the insertion to either side with fine stitches. This saves much time in rolling hems and produces a neat finish.

Mrs. E. T. N., O.

SLEEPING-PORCH NIGHT CLOTHES

For sleeping-porch night clothes, I find that a pair of full-sized white cotton blankets without a border will make two night suits of the style which have long sleeves, long legs, and feet, and button from the neck down to the waistline in front. I can get a hood also, to go with each suit. These blanket night suits cut to advantage, and are very warm and quite inexpensive.

Mrs. S. E. C., Wash.

SLIP PETTICOATS

In making slip petticoats for my growing girls, I do not sew up the shoulder seams, but face them back for about two inches and sew on the under side of the fronts, and the upper side of the backs, three snap fasteners about an inch apart. The skirt may then be adjusted at the shoulder seams to suit the length of the dress with which it is worn, for although theoretically all the dresses are the same length, some shrink more than others in laundering, and it is hard to have the petticoats and dresses of identical length.

Mrs. S. W. F., N. J.

TO REPLACE WORN-OUT TAPE

When running a new elastic or tape through underwear, pin one end of the new tape to one end of the old. Then, as the old tape is pulled out, the new tape will be pulled in.

Mrs. H. A. S., Pa.

WHEN DARNING STOCKINGS

Do not use darning stitches when the heels of your stockings become thin at the line of the top of your low shoes. Use a spool of silk and make parallel lines of fine chain stitches. This matches the stocking mesh so well that it can scarcely be detected.

F. P., N. Y.

WHEN LENGTHENING DRESSES

When it is necessary to lengthen my little girl's dresses, I find the regular gauze bandage which comes in rolls of different widths just the thing to use in facing them. The gauze shrinks so little that if it is placed on the under side when stitching, the hem will be perfectly smooth and not wrinkled when ironed.

Mrs. M. K., Ia.

WHEN MAKING SILK CORDING

It is often impossible to buy suitable cord for silk, satin, and other thin materials, as the regulation cord sold in the shops is rather heavy, not always graded sufficiently as to size, and has a twist which the silk covering does not always disguise. I have found an excellent substitute in the use of wool of any size, color, or condition. You can regulate the size of the cording by the number of strands of wool selected. Furthermore, the wool is light, and cording made from it can be sewn on very easily. In this way, old, faded, and otherwise useless wool becomes highly useful.

What is GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE?

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE, which is just one of the many departments touching every phase of women's interests from fashions to foods which are maintained by Good Housekeeping, is a highly organized laboratory where, for more than thirteen years, all kinds of household appliances, recipes, and home managing methods have been tested under conditions which closely approximate those found in the average home.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE is operated by a staff of eight experts, together with eleven assistants.

Two departments

It is made up of two departments. One is the Department of Household Engineering, which tests new appliances and labor saving devices. The other is the Department of Cookery, which tests recipes and evolves new methods of cookery in well equipped kitchen laboratories. The recipes set forth in this book represent the favorites submitted by Good Housekeeping readers all over the country. These recipes, as well as every recipe in GOOD HOUSEKEEPING MAGAZINE, have been thoroughly standardized, tested and tasted by the corps of trained workers in the Department of Cookery.

At your service

The entire staff of both departments of GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE is entirely at your service at all times to assist you in your home-managing problems. The service is free to Good Housekeeping readers; there is no obligation of any nature whatsoever. Do not hesitate to call upon them.
